CALIFORNIA RESIDENCE FOR TUITION PURPOSE

Tuition Fee for Nonresident Students

If you have not been living in California with the intent to make it your permanent home for more than one year immediately before the residence determination date for each term in which you propose to attend the University, you must pay a nonresident tuition fee in addition to all other fees. The residence determination date is the day instruction begins at the last of the University of California campuses to open for the quarter, and for schools on the semester system, the day instruction begins for the semester.

Law Governing Residence

The rules regarding residence for tuition purposes at the University of California are governed by the California Education Code and implemented by Standing Orders of the Regents of the University of California. Under these rules, adult citizens and certain classes of aliens can establish residence for tuition purposes. There are particular rules that apply to the residence classification of minors (see below).

Who is a Resident?

If you are an adult student (at least 18 years of age) you may establish residence for tuition purposes in California if: 1) you are a U.S. citizen; 2) you are a permanent resident or other immigrant; or 3) you are a non-immigrant who is not precluded from establishing a domicile in the U.S. Nonimmigrants who are not precluded from establishing domicile in the U.S. include those who hold valid visas of the following types: A,E,G,H1,H4,I,K,L,N,NATO,O1,O3,R or V. To establish residence you must be physically present in California for more than one year and you must have come here with the intent to make California your home as opposed to coming to this state to go to school. Physical presence within the state solely for educational purposes does not constitute the establishment of California residence, regardless of the length of your stay. You must demonstrate your intention to make California your home by severing your residential ties with your former state of residence and establishing those ties with California. If these steps are delayed, the one year durational period will be extended until you have demonstrated both presence and intent for one full year.

NOTE: Effective Winter 2005, registered domestic partners are included in all rules that apply to spouses.

Requirements for Financial Independence

You will be considered "financially independent" if one or more of the following applies:

1. You are at least 24 years of age by December 31 of the calendar year for which you are requesting residence classification;
2. You are a veteran of the U.S. Armed Forces;
3. You are a ward of the court or both parents are deceased;
4. You have legal dependents other than a spouse or registered domestic partner;
5. You are married, a registered domestic partner or a graduate student or a professional student, and you were not claimed as an income tax deduction by your parents or any other individual for the tax year immediately preceding the term for which you are requesting resident classification;
6. You are a single undergraduate student and you were not claimed as an income tax deduction by your parents or any other individual for the two tax years immediately preceding the term for which you are requesting resident classification, and you can demonstrate self-sufficiency for those years and the current year;
7. Graduate student instructors, graduate student teaching assistants, research assistants, junior specialists, post-graduate researchers, graduate student researchers, and teaching associates who are employed 49% or more of full time or awarded the equivalent in University-administered funds, e.g. grants, stipends, or fellowships at the University of California in the term for which classification is requested;
8. You are financially dependent on a CA resident parent who meets the university's one year physical presence with intent to remain in CA requirement;
9. You reach the age of majority in California while your parent(s) were residents of this state AND the California resident parent(s) leave the state to establish a residence elsewhere AND you continue to reside in the State of California after your parent(s) departure.

Establishing Intent to Become a California Resident

Indications of your intent to make California your permanent residence should include the following: registering to vote and voting in California elections; designating California as your permanent address on all school and employment records, including military records if you are in the military service; obtaining a California driver's license or, if you do not drive, a California Identification Card; obtaining California vehicle registration; paying California income taxes as a resident, including taxes on income earned outside California from the date you establish residence; establishing a California residence in which you keep your personal belongings; and licensing for professional practice in California. The absence of these indicia in other states during any period for which you claim residence can also serve as an indication of your intent. Your intent will be questioned if you return to your former state of residence when the University is not in session. Documentary evidence is required and all relevant indications will be considered in determining your classification.

General Rules Applying to Minors

If you are an unmarried minor (under age 18), the residence of the parent with whom you live is considered to be your residence. If you have a parent living, you cannot change your residence by your own act, by the appointment of a legal guardian, or by the relinquishment of your parent's right of control. If you lived with neither parent, your residence is that of the parent with whom you last lived. Unless you are a minor alien present in the U.S. under the terms of a nonimmigrant visa which precludes you from establishing domicile in the U.S., you may establish your own residence when your parents are deceased and a legal guardian has not been appointed. If you derive California residence from a parent, that parent must satisfy the one-year durational residence requirement.

Specific Rules Applying to Minor

1. Divorced/Separated Parents

You may be able to derive California residence status from a California resident parent if you move to California to live with that parent on or before your 18th birthday. If you begin residing with your California parent after your 18th birthday, you will be treated like any other adult student coming to California to establish residence.

2. Parent of Minor Moves From California

You may be entitled to resident status if you are a minor U.S. citizen or eligible alien whose parent(s) was a resident of California who left the state within one year of the residence determination date if: 1) you remained in California after your parent(s) departed; 2) you enroll in a California public postsecondary institution within one year of your parent(s) departure; and 3) once enrolled, you maintain continuous attendance in that institution. Financial independence will not be required in this case.

3. Two-Year Care and Control

You may be entitled to resident status if you are a U.S. citizen or eligible alien and you have lived continuously with an adult who is not your parent for at least two years prior to the residence determination date. The adult with whom you are living must have been responsible for your care and control for the entire two-year period and must have been residing in California during the one year immediately preceding the residence determination date.

Exemptions from Nonresident Tuition

1. Member of the Military

If you are an undergraduate student and a member of the U.S. military stationed in California on active duty, or the spouse, registered domestic partner or dependent children, you may be exempt indefinitely from the nonresident tuition fee. Graduate students continue to be eligible for this exemption only until they have lived in California one year from the date they arrived in California with ties to the state. You must provide the residence deputy on campus with a statement from your commanding officer or personnel officer stating that your assignment to active duty in California is not for educational purposes. The letter must include the dates of your assignment to the state.

2. Child, Registered Domestic Partner or Spouse of a Faculty Member

To the extent funds are available, if you are an unmarried dependent child under age 21 or the spouse or registered domestic partner of a member of the University faculty who is a member of the Academic Senate, you may be eligible for a waiver of the nonresident tuition fee. Confirmation of the faculty member's membership on the Academic Senate must be secured each term this waiver is granted.

3. Child, Registered Domestic Partner or Spouse of a University Employee

You may be entitled to resident classification if you are a full time university employee who is assigned out of CA, or an unmarried dependent child, spouse, or registered domestic partner of a full-time University employee whose assignment is outside of California (e.g. Los Alamos National Laboratory or Washington DC Center). You, your parent's or spouse's employment status with the University must be ascertained each term.

4. Child, Spouse or Registered Domestic Partner of Deceased Public Law Enforcement or Fire Suppression Employee

You may be entitled to a waiver of the nonresident tuition fee if you are the child, spouse or registered domestic partner of a deceased public law enforcement or fire suppression employee who was a CA resident at the time of his or her death and who was killed in the course of fire suppression or law enforcement duties.

5. Dependent Child of a California Resident

A student who has not been an adult resident of California for more than one year, and who is the dependent child of a California resident who has been a resident for more than one year immediately prior to the residence determination date, may be entitled to a waiver of the nonresident tuition until the student has resided in California for the minimum time necessary to become a resident so long as continuous attendance is maintained at an institution.

6. Native American Graduates of a BIA High School

If you are a graduate of a California high school operated by the Federal Bureau of Indian Affairs, you may be eligible for an exemption from the nonresident fee.

7. Employee of a California Public School District

Any person holding a valid credential authorizing service in the public schools of the state of California who is employed by a school district in a full-time certificate position may be eligible for a nonresident tuition waiver.

8. Student Athlete in Training at U.S. Olympic Training Center

Any amateur student athlete in training at the United States Olympic Training Center in Chula Vista may be eligible for a waiver of the non-resident tuition until he or she has resided in the state the minimum time necessary to become a resident.

9. Graduate of California High School (AB 540)

A student who attended high school in California for three or more years (9th grade included) and graduated from a California high school (or attained the equivalent) may be exempt from nonresident tuition. For eligibility go to: <http://www.ucop.edu/sas/sfs/uctefaq.pdf>

10. Surviving Dependents of CA Residents Killed in 09/11/01 Terrorist Attack

A student who was a dependent of a California resident who was killed in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center, the Pentagon Building, or the crash of United Airlines Flight 93. Eligible students must meet the financial need requirements for the Cal Grant A program.

11. Recipients of the Congressional Medal of Honor

Any undergraduate student who is a recipient of a Congressional Medal of Honor or who is the child of a recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor. The recipient must be a California resident or must have been a California resident at the time of his or her death. The student may not be older than 27, and the student's annual income may not exceed the national poverty level.

Temporary Absences

If you are a nonresident student who is in the process of establishing a residence for tuition purposes and you return to your former home during non-instructional periods, your presence in the state will be presumed to be solely for educational purposes and only convincing evidence to the contrary will rebut this presumption. (A student who is in the state solely for educational purposes will NOT be classified as a resident for tuition purposes regardless of length of stay).

If you are a student who has been classified as a resident for tuition purposes and you leave the state temporarily, your absence could result in the loss of your CA residence. The burden will be on you (or your parents if you are a minor) to verify that you did nothing inconsistent with your claim of a continuing California residence during your absence. Steps that you (or your parents) should take to retain a California residence include:

1. Continue to use a California permanent address on all records-educational, employment, military, banking, etc.
2. Continue to satisfy California tax obligations (Note: if you are claiming California residence, you are liable for payment of income taxes on your total income from the date you establish residence in the state, including income earned in another state or country).
3. Retain your California voter's registration and vote by absentee ballot.
4. Maintain a California driver's license and car registration. If it's necessary to change your license or car registration, you must change them back within the time prescribed by law.
5. You return to California during breaks, holidays, vacations, etc.

Petition for Resident Classification

You must submit petition and documentation by mail or drop off at the Registrar's Office for a Change of Classification from nonresident to resident status. All changes of status must be initiated prior to the first day of instruction for the term you intend to be classified as a resident for tuition.

Time Limitation on Providing Documentation

If additional documentation is required for residence classification but is not readily accessible, you will be allowed until the end of the applicable term to provide it.

Incorrect Classification

If you were incorrectly classified as a resident, you are subject to a nonresident classification and to payment of all nonresident tuition fees not paid. If you concealed information or furnished false information and were classified incorrectly as a result, you are also subject to University discipline. Resident students who become nonresidents must immediately notify the campus residence deputy.

Inquiries and Appeals

Inquiries regarding residence requirements, determinations, and/or recognized exceptions should be directed to the UCSD Residence Deputy, Registrar's Office, 9500 Gilman Drive, Dept. 0021R, La Jolla, CA 92093-0021. Any student following a final decision on residence classification by the residence deputy may appeal in writing to the legal analysts within 30 days of notification of the residence deputy's final decision.
